DOUBLE-DECKED General Pershing School on Hanover street will be "eventually' replaced by a new five-classroom structure for first through third graders. Older elementary students in the area will attend the proposed nine-classroom Pershing school on a five-acre site bounded by Whittier, Hanover, Lowell and Bellevue streets. This latter plant will accommodate fourth through sixth graders. The school district, doing all it can to expedite both projects, still isn't certain when frustrated parents will know the dates the schools will materialize.

LONG-DELAYED CURRICULUM REPORT

At long last curriculum finally was given the spotlight at a Jefferson Elementary School board meeting Monday night.

Dr. Vinton Stratton, the district's straight - talking director of instruction, spent 50 minutes telling the board and the audience about the results of latest test scores which show that the district has made rapid strides the past two years in at least five phases of the educational program.

Stratton's report, presented with the assistance of Dr. Douglas Harkness, was long overdue through no fault of his own. His presentation had been shuffled to the bottom of agendas the past few months by the administration which seemed primarily occupied with selection of architects and site negotiations.

Stratton's report, which he will summarize more in detail for reader consumption in this paper next week, showed that district students, off latest tests on basic skills, called the Iowa Tests, were above the national average in all categories of instruction except the eighth graders in the field of arithmetic skills.

Two years ago when the Iowa Tests were first given here (for grades 4, 6 & 8) the district was considerably below the national norm in reading, below average in work study skills (use of graphs, maps and other reference materials), and below the average in arithmetic at three grade levels. This was before Stratton joined the district.

The latest test results here, given grades three through eight, show students above the national average in vocabulary, reading, language skills, work study skills, and arithmetic. The composite average of district students in grades four through eight for all five test categories showed each grade above the national norm. Grade three results haven't been recived as yet.

Using the first tests two years ago to measure abilities in these five areas as a guide, the district concentrated its attention on the deficient areas and subsequent Iowa Tests showed that these areas all registered big improvements.

Only the eighth graders were below the national average in the field of arithmetic skills. In 24 other categories, JESD students are above the national average in all five phases of the curriculum which were tested.

Stratton pointed out that the Iowa Tests on basic skills only measures a part of the JESD program.

"Nothing is said of art, social studies, music, attitudes and loyalties," he reminded. "These areas too require careful analysis."

Stratton reminded the board that while the district averages were much improved in these five areas, the rate of deviation above and below the norm also was increasing — meaning that all students aren't above average.

"There are still students here way below the average who need special encouragement-as much encouragement as we should afford the above average students," he explained.

"We still have much to accomplish," he went on. "We must make clear that these tests only help us to identify areas of weakness in the curriculum. We do put our stress on these areas, but at the same time we hope to improve the entire program uniformly."

"These tests," Stratton repeated, "measure only certain things" "There are more phases to be examined than the three r's — an old concept that is out of date."

"We feel we are making progress in other fields that have not been measured," Stratton continued. "And to keep the board and public aware of the situation we feel we need to make these curriculum reports at least once a month to the board."

Trustee Katherine Mullen followed Stratton's presentation with a motion that from now on the first part of the second regular board meeting each month should be devoted exclusively to reports on curri-

DR. MARCUS OF DC BACK IN HEADLINES

Dr. Sanford A. Marcus is receiving deserving applause this week.

Tuesday morning at Alemany Emergency Hospital in San Francisco, the Westlake physician sayed the life of a four-year-old girl who appeared doomed with convulsions.

Marcus, of 40 Northgate avenue, breathed life back into the fading youngster, Susan Nezik, while her parents, Policeman and Mrs. Jack A. Nezik, waited outside the emergency room for more than an hour.

Susan was transfered to Kaiser Hospital a few hours later and was on the road to full recovery—smiles and all.

Marcus, a member of Temple Judea congregation, was the subject of national publicity three years ago when his infant son was kidnapped from a San Francisco hospital. The baby was returned safe and sound after police arrested a Stockton woman.

'No Progress' On Pershing, Parents Claim

The two General Pershing school projects came up for trustees' action Monday night — but again the board delayed action.

Several members of the audience, including Crocker - Pershing PTA president Wes Petersen, expressed displeasure that progress on both planned schools "continued to be slow."

The board's plans to date include construction of a nine-classroom school comprising 5.4 acres on a site bounded by Bellevue, Whittier, Hanover and Lowell streets, and replacement of ancient Gen. Pershing at 631 Hanover with a five-classroom school in an expanded site.

Trustees have wrapped up all property deals for the nine-classroom Pershing site with

Forgery Suspect Held To Answer In Superior Court

Judge Charles Becker this week held Philip Sheridan, 21-year-old San Rafael cook, to answer in superior court on two counts of forgery filed by Daly City police.

Sherdian was arrested by Officer J.R. Wetmore on January 12 a few minutes after the former got two new tires at Les Ritchie's gas station in Westlake by using a stolen credit card.

The San Rafaellite pled not guilty January 12 when he made his first appearance before Becker in South San Francisco.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT

Weibel Replacement Quest Opens Feb. 3

Criteria for the selection of a new superintendent for Jefferson Elementary School District will be decided here on Thursday, February 5, when trustees meet with a professional screening committee composed of educators from six Northern California institutions and the county superintendent of schools.

During this evening session, the board will explain its desired prerequisites for a new district chief and accept the advice of the educators so that the procedures of each unit will be coordinated and perfectly clear.

The screening committee, which will review all aplications for the post and eventually recommend five top candidates for board consideration, will consist of representatives of the California Teachers Association, University of San Francisco, University of California, Stanford, San Franciso State, San Jose State, and County Superintendent James Tormey.

The new man will be hired to begin duties here on July 1 this year, succeding Supt. H. Z. Weibel, with the district since 1951.

City To Meet Underwriters In Showdown On Fire Rates

CITY, PLANNERS STUDY MASTER ZONING PLAN

The council Thursday night met with Hann and Wise consultants to further study a new zoning ordinance that is being drafted to keep pace with Daly City's rapid expansion.

The new ordinance, drawn up by City Attorney Paul Hupf, was suggested by Hahn-Wise after an extensive master-plan study here the past year.

The planners believe the new ordinance will aid the city in projections for land use and designate up-to-date and practical provisions for commercial, industrial and residential development.

The existing zoning ordinance, adopted in 1949, is consistent with the state government code, but lacks sufficient weight, particularly in relation to the city's plans for industrial and commercial development.

Hupf hopes to have the revisions ready for council adoption within the next few months.

TRUSTEES ORDER IMPROVEMENTS

DC Schools 'Fairly' Safe: Fire Survey

With the exception of long-standing General Pershing and Woodrow Wilson, Jefferson Elementary District's 13 schools are in fair shape from a fire safety standpoint.

This was the gist of Fire Bttn. Chief Frank Specht's requested report to trustees Monday night as the board stressed it would follow the fire department's recommendations "in full."

This means an immediate appropriation of $8000 to correct deficiencies at the older schools — primarily Pershing, W-Wilson, Jeff Elementary and Crocker.

Specht, accompanied by the state fire marshal, checked out 10 of the schools on request of trustees who remembered the Chicago parochial school disaster and were worried about fire safeguards in Jefferson District plants.

Specht's report said that overall, conditions in JESD schools "ranged from fair to good." But his 16-page report pointed out hazards in several of the older schools.

JESD administrators, checking out Specht's report for more than a week, estimated the recommended improvements will cost $8000 and trustees ordered that the work be completed as soon as possible. Asst. Supt. David Shapiro said all the improvements should be made by the end of Easter vacation.

Specht's report cited the lack of sufficient and regularly serviced fire extinguishers, no direct connection between the schools' fire alarm systems with the fire department, faulty air duct intake protective devices in furnace rooms, lack of fully-qualified technical help in the school heating plants, and the need for corrective measures on attic partitions, transoms, electrical hookups and panic doors.

About the only point clarified by the district staff was that inspections on fire extinguishers and the heating plants were scheduled regularly.

Of the $8000 for improvements, approximately $2300 will go to correct faults at General Pershing on Hanover street. This plant was built about 15 years before the state school safety code was adopted.

Specht's survey covered only the 10 schools which come under the jurisdiction and coverage of the Daly City fire department. Old Thornton, Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin, all located in the Colma Fire District, were checked out last summer by the state fire marshall. This survey prompted some $3000 in fire safety measures at Thornton — which have been completed. Garden Village

Police Swarm To 'Robbery,' Capture Pair

A reported "robbery" at Budget Savings Store, 6001 Mission street, Sunday evening about 9:30 o'clock brought six Daly City police to the scene in all haste and loaded for bear.

The episode turned out to be a case of petty theft. Only thing taken was a bottle of 79 cent wine.

The gents who caused the fuss, Sidney A. Polk, 20, and Richard Williams, 19, both parole violators from San Francisco, were nabbed in the same neighborhood a few minutes after Mrs. Tosia Szames summoned police.

Both young men apparently had been drinking. Likewise their 15-year-old female companion who waited outside in a car with a third young male.

In muni court Monday morning, unemployed Polk pled guilty to being drunk and Williams, a baker's helper, pled guilty to petty theft. The girl was taken to Hillcrest Juvenile Home, while the young man who owned the car was released after questioning.

Mrs. Szames said Polk and Williams entered the store and repeatedly refused her offers to help them find groceries. When both ran from the establishment, she figured something was amiss.

Polk and Williams said they had just come from a party in the Fillmore district.

Muni Judge Charles Becker fined Polk $50 and Williams $100, giving each five days to pay or else serve time in county jail.

Residents on February 3 are asked to leave their porchlights on from 7 to 8 p.m. if they wish to donate to this most worthy of national drives.

Mrs. Vickers' chairmen by areas: E. Kushman, Crocker-Pershing PTA; Roberta Taylor, Ben Franklin PTA; Marie O'Donnell, Our Lady of Mercy; Mary Feldman, Vista Mar PTA; Ellen D. Stone, Woodrow Wilson PTA; Dorothy Coleman, OLPH; Eleanor Doyle, Hillside-Vista Grande-Thornton; Sabra Carrara, Westlake-Olympia PTA; Louise Cloonan, Garden Village; Sylvia Silberstein, Westmoor PTA, and Hilda Heagney, Jefferson High PTA.

'Mole' Tunnels Into Tavern, Gets About $311

Daly City's elusive "Cat" burglar had company this week. Police now are looking for "The Mole."

Ed's Place, tavern at 34 San Pedro avenue, was raided early Monday by a smallish thief who tunneled in under the barroom floor.

The intruder entered the rear of the building through a 2x2 foot hole in the wall, then worked his way under the floor to a spot behind the bar where he knocked loose a few loose boards to arrive inside the beverage dispensary.

His total haul amounted to $311 and included 700 pennies from the cash register, rolls of quarters, dimes and nickles, and a few stacks of greenbacks, ranging from $20 to $5 bills. He got most of the dough from a sack located in the rear storeroom in a whiskey case and also busted the pin - ball and cigarette machines in his quest for coins.

Police believe the culprit was quite familiar with the bar layout. There were no signs of force entry other than the tunneling evidence.

COUNCIL ASKS 'CORRECTIONS' NEXT TUESDAY

Hot under the collar Daly City officials will meet with the National Fire Underwriters Tuesday morning in San Francisco to see if alleged errors in the insurance rate-raising report can be corrected.

City Manager George Watts, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and members of the council will air their protests on the report which pointed out the reasons why Daly City is being socked an extra $60,000 in fire insurance rates this year.

The report, published after the underwriters wound up an inspection of Daly City facilities early in 1958, cited the undermanned and underequipped status of the fire department and many shortcomings in the city water system.

Watts and his department heads, particularly Kennedy and Public Works Chief Otis Calhoun, claim the underwriters are much in error in assessing points against the city in various operations, thus causing the insurance rates to rocket from a Class Four rating to Class Seven.

Kennedy, pointing out budget allocations for his department, says the report on his department is full of discrepancies and that the city lost points in several brackets even though improvements have been made. The chief adds that if these "corrections" on his department alone are made by the underwriters, the saving in insurance rates to the city could amount to about $25,000 of the $60,000 increase.

Calhoun this week is expected to have the report checked out fully on his department. He, too, believes the underwriters have made some errors.

In meetings thus far with the underwriters since the report was issued, the national board representatives haven't admitted they were essentially wrong—enough to change Daly City's rating and the new insurance rates.

The Chamber of Commerce has joined the council in challenging the report and each body has sounded intentions to protest the action to the state insurance commission as well as to the National Board of Fire Underwriters headquarters in New York.

The last underwriters survey here came in 1942. The new report was requested two years ago by the council when Howard Stites was city manager.

DC School Officials To Attend National Convention In SF

Administrators and trustees of Daly City's two school districts and representatives of the Bayshore and Brisbane districts will attend the annual National School Boards Association convention which begins this Sunday in San Francisco. The sessions end next Wednesday.

Lois Barrett New Brisbane School Chief

Mrs. Lois Barrett, 42, with the Brisbane school system since 1939, last week was appointed superintendent of Brisbane Elementary School District by unanimous vote of trustees.

She will remain principal of Brisbane Elementary School, under the contract made last week, as well as handle the superintendent's job.

Her salary, and that of Principal Mrs. Monte Rice, Brisbane Intermediate School, was raised $300 by the board last week. The new superintendent gets $10,128 a year.

Mrs. Barrett, who received her credentials at San Francisco State College, taught one year in Pittsburg (Calif.) elementary schools prior to moving to the Brisbane district in 1939. She was appointed principal in 1945.

HARMONY is apparent in Brisbane Elementary School District as board members and district administrators pose happily following the appointment of a new superintendent. Mrs. Lois Barrett (standing, right), principal of Brisbane Elementary School, is the new district superintendent. She will continue in the capacity of principal. Next to Mrs Barrett is Mrs Montie Rice, principal of Brisbane Intermediate School. Golden Gloves Hopefuls Headline OLPH Card Here Thursday Night

More than 700 folks will converge on Daly City War Memorial building this Thursday night to sit in on another top-flight amateur boxing program presented by the Men's Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

Tickets are still available but are going fast for the benefit eight-bout card. The first two performers will answer the bell at 8 o'clock.

The boxers who will trade blows Thursday here all have Golden Gloves ambitions. And if the turnout is as good as it has been here for previous OLPH programs, Daly City might be able to land the Golden Gloves trials this spring.

Names of the boxers and officials were not known at press time. Each is licensed by the State Athletic Commission and the bouts are supervised under that body's rules.

Some of California's best professional prospects came up through the ranks after appearing on OLPH cards. Hank Casey and Louis Molina were among these first-raters.

Tickets are $2 for reserved ringside, $1 general admission, and 50 cents for children. They may be purchased by calling McGraw's Drugs, PL 5-6226; Val's restaurant, PL 5-3448; Kirchhubel's, PL 5-9281; Vince & Fred's, PL 5-9908; Bubble Club, VA 6-4634; Globe, PL 5-9996; O'Leary's, MA 1-9287, and Westlake Lounge, PL 5-4809. Some tickets may be left for sale at the door Thursday night.

All proceeds of the fight program will be used by the Men's Club to continue youth athletic projects here, spokesman Walter J. Gillies reminded.

More Than 100 New Cars Due For Auto Show

February 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 have been set by the Westlake Business and Professional Association for this year's annual Westlake Auto Show at Westlake Shopping Center.

Total worth of the display will be over $500,000, with more than 100 domestic and foreign cars being shown in the center.

Horseless carriages, racers, custom jobs, exhibits from the State Highway Patrol and National Safety Council, an Army missile, scooters and Go-carts will add the unusual to this year's great display of everything automotive.

Admission is free, with show hours from 1 to 9 p.m. daily.

Many of the Westlake stores and shops are devoting floor space to accommodate the avalanche of exhibits during the five-day show.

San Leandro Man To Court On DC Narcotics Charge

Only one of the five young men booked by Daly City police last week in the "marijuana party" raid at 189 Alexander street is subject to prosecution.

James F. DeCambra, 20, of 948 Douglas court, San Leandro, comes up for preliminary hearing in muni court this week on a charge of suspicion of possessing narcotics.

The four other adults in the raid were released after lengthy questioning. Apparently the evidence taken by police wasn't sufficient to implicate them.

Daly City officers raided the home and found a marijuana cigarette in a half-empty cigarette package on the table. The shinding presumably was a drinking party, attended by more than a dozen young adults.

Unemployed DeCambra, according to Sgt. Bruno Conci, previously served time after he was convicted on a similar narcotics charge. He is still on parole for the former offense.

Quest Opens For Weibel Replacement

notified Weibel by unanimous vote that he would not be rehired as superintendent after his contract expires this June. Trustees at that time, despite considerable protests from district teachers, classified help and citizens, expressed a "lack of confidence" in Weibel's policies and his performance.

The 54-year-old adminstrator will remain with the district, however, in the capacity of "director" of the district's building program until he becomes principal of one of the new schools due to open here next year.

Weibel was allowed to stay with the district in the above-mentioned capacities by unanimous vote of the present board. Trustees Tom Noonan and Frank Verducci were not on the board when the decision to oust Weibel was made.

Weibel's salary after he steps down as superintendent will be the maximum pay for a district principal — somewhere in the neighborhood of $10,000. As superintendent, he gets $14,000.

Trustees as yet haven't finalized their choice of qualifications for a new leader. However, they have agreed on minimum and maximum age specification of 35 to 45 years, and on the fact that the new man must have extensive experience in teaching and administration.

Both assitant superintendents Dr. Vinton Straton, director of instruction, and Dr. David Shapiro, director of business affairs, are rumored for the post. Neither has said anything about this possibility however.

Several local placement agencies have been receiving applications for the job. Other candidates may apply directly to the board of trustees, who, in turn, will turn this material over to the screening committee.

'No Progress' On Pershing, Parents Claim

the exception of the Irene Meussdorfer property, which comprises the bulk of the 5.4 acres. Mrs. Meussdrofer's attorney is handling price talks with the district attorney. The elderly lady, however, told the newspaper last week that she "at no time announced any intentions to sell my land for a school."

This was contrary to the report of JESD Asst. Supt. David Sharpiro, who earlier stated that a deal for the Meussdorfer land was imminent.

Mario Ciampi, long-time JESD architect, has the contract for the nine-classroom school. A board-appointed citizens' committee, headed by trustee Mike Callan, interviewed 23 architects for the old Pershing replacement — the five-classroom project. This group then recommended four men for board consideration. But trustees aren't ready to name this architect. State Division of School Planning has okayed the Pershing replacement, involving property owners in the 600 block of Hanover and a few on Risel street behind the present school. The question now is whether appointing an architect for the Pershing replacement will expedite State Division of Finance approval for the project.

Architect Angus McSweeny, recently hired by the board to design the Daniel Webster, Thomas Edison and Abe Lincoln schools, and Ciampi, busy with many projects, were not considered by the citizens' committee in the quest for a Pershing (replacement) architect. McSweeney, however, is drawing up a site plan for this school at no charge to the district.

Students at Crocker school, many of them due to attend the new Pershing, have come up with three names for the nine classroom school. These are Eisenhower, William Savage and George Washington. Savage was a former superintendent of this district. The name "Savage" for the school, however doesn't sound too well to trustees due to its popular connotation.

Resolution Cites M. Pauline Brown, Pioneer-Teacher

Jefferson Elementary District trustees Monday night passed a resolution in memory of Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown, district teacher for 25 years who died this month at the age of 84.

The resolution cited Mrs. Brown, a pioneer Colma resident, for "her unselfishness and self-sacrifice for the welfare of district children" and "her active participation in social and community work despite advanced age and severe infirmities."

"The greatest lessons in life are frequently the examples of conduct established by persons like M. Pauline Brown," the resolution ended.

and Ben Franklin, relatively new schools, passed with only minor improvements being made.

Pershing, Woodrow Wilson, Crocker and Jefferson — the older schools—are targeted for most of the improvements. The newer plants (Colma K-6, Colma Intermediate, Westlake, Olympia, Vista Grande, Vista Mar) are all in good shape since they were built under the state program and meet state fire and safety requirements.

A breakdown of the $8000 outlay, supplied by Shapiro, includes $1532 for hardware (panic bars, classroom locksets and door closers), $1433 for new fire extinguishers, $3159 for sheetrock fireproofing material (Pershing and W-Wilson), $408 for fire alarms (Pershing, W-Wilson, Crocker, Jefferson), $832 for attic partitions (Pershing, W-Wilson, Crocker, Jefferson), and $612 for transoms (Pershing, Crocker, W-Wilson). These are the major expenditures.

Trustees Tom Noonan and Frank Verducci, who spearheaded the request for the survey by the fire department, were angry Monday night when they noted that some of the directives from the board to custodians on fire precautions weren't being carried out.

Noonan, strongly backed by the board, said any district employee found negligent in this regard would be fired.

Supt. H. Z. Weibel said he was unaware that the board's directive was not being adhered to by a few custodians.

Specht, in closing his remarks, added that he thought the custodians were doing a good job and following the rules.

The administration and board commended Specht and the fire department for the survey and termed the report quite comprehensive.

Her husband works in the lumber business. Their son attends St. Joseph's High School.

Brisbane schools had been without a superintendent since last June when Miss Natalie Lipman, long-time chief of the Brisbane and Bayshore districts, resigned her Brisbane post. She and Brisbane trustees long had been at odds over administration policies. Miss Llpman even filed a damage suite against the school board. This was thrown out of court because the judge held trustees are immune to an action of this type, considering the circumstances of the case.

Brisbane's student enrollment totals 502. The elementary school (kindergarten through fifth grade) houses 364 youngsters and the intermediate school (sixth through eighth grades) 138 pupils.

culum.

"We haven't spent enough time discussing educational problems in the district," she declared.

Chairman Joseph Lewkowitz answered, "but we haven't had the opportunity."

But trustee Mike Callan told Lewkowitz his statement was incorrect. "This isn't true. We are all interested in curriculum and we have given it consideration."

Answering Mrs. Mullen, Stratton explained that a report on Iowa Test results is given the board once a year. Trustee Tom Noonan said he thought the Monday report was excellent and curriculum deserved consistent attention at board meetings.

The term "vitamin" was first used in 1912 by Dr. Casimer Funk.

Raymond Latham Of Colma Gets Army Citation

A certificate of achievement for outstanding formulation and preparation of courses of instruction was presented to First Lieutenant Raymond Latham of Colma, for his efforts while stationed at the Fort Bliss, (Texas) U.S. Army Air Defense School.

Presentation of the certificate was made January 9 at the Presidio of San Francisco by Col. James B. Evans, Northern California Sector Commander of the XVth United States Army Corps (Reserve) which coordinates reserve activities for the states of Arizona, California and Nevada.

Lieutenant Latham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. NICETIES OR NECESSITIES?

City officials are still moaning about the fire underwriters report which, among other things, has pointed out the under-equipped and undermanned status of the fire department.

Though there may be some discrepancies in the report, which should be corrected, the main facts are still clear.

The fire department has been neglected in the city budget and the council have no one else to blame but themselves.

Certainly, the council have attempted to improve the fire department in equipment and personnel. But this betterment policy is about 10 years too late. Not enough funds have been provided in the yearly budgets for the fire department. Instead, essential moneys have been channeled into other city departments which aren't so critically important to the welfare of the city.

The city fathers have "spread" tax funds throughout city departments and neglected the most essential services—adequate fire and police protection.

Figures explain the absurdity of the situation.

While giving the fire department a budget of only $194,315 this fiscal year, the council at the same time earmarked $173,000 to expedite a new library branch and $66,500 for the library system.

Granted, the city needs better library facilities. But which is better—books or lives? Fire and police services should be the primary budget considerations.

While some $239,000 goes to the library service here this year from capital outlay funds, only $4500 is earmarked from this reserve for the fire department improvements and only $4195 for police department improvements. Where is the emphasis being placed?

The present budget includes $106,615 for the parks and recreation departments, $14,400 of which is for capital improvements. This seems to be quite a lot of money that could be used to better advantage in the fire, police and water department budgets.

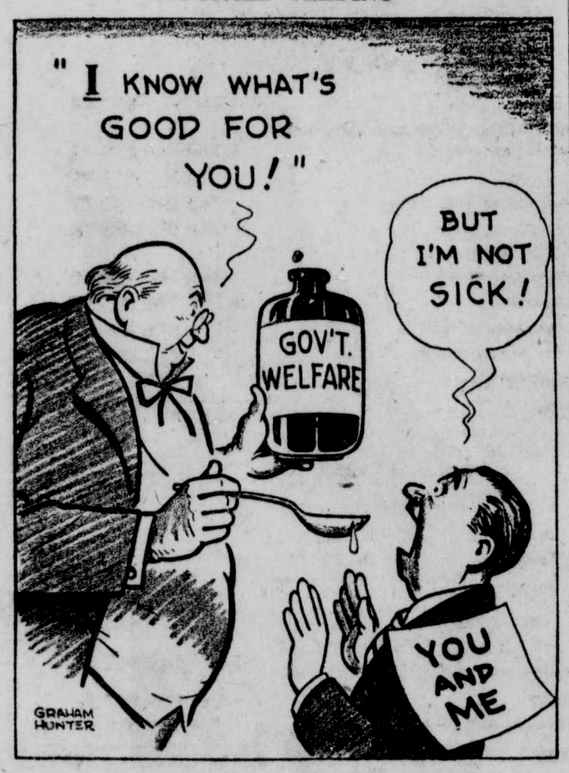
We aren't forgetting that the city has set aside $95,000 for a new fire station and $50,000 for two new pumper trucks this year from capital outlay funds. But even with these improvements, the fire department will remain underequipped and understaffed.

If the underwriters are substantially correct in their findings, as they maintain they are, the council will have to make some changes in their capital outlay projects.

There has been too much apathy on the part of the public in this matter. The people themselves should take the initiative and let the council know they mean business.

The loss of lives and property are critical considerations. If the city fathers continue to overlook essential services and curb the fire and police budgets to satisfy other departments, then it may well be that YOUR property, and possibly YOUR life, are endangered.

FORCED FEEDING



THE SECURITY LOTTERY

When you buy insurance, the policy tells you what you'll get for your money—and what you won't. It's a contract, and that's that.

Some people think of Social Security as "insurance," which it started out to be but isn't at all. The government tells you what to pay now (or have your property seized) and maybe you'll get something later, maybe not.

Congress decides both what you'll pay, and what you'll—get—if anything. The money goes into the Treasury to be spent, and the government puts IOUs into the Social Security account for you to pay in taxes later, or for your children to pay.

You can pay all your life—and collect a mere $200 death benefit.

Or you can pay for a few years and hit the jackpot of maximum benefits. Congress makes the rules, and a later Congress can change them. It often does.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

Surrounded by teen - agers clamoring for autographs, Fred MacMurray graciously asked each youngster his name and gave each a personal autograph following his guest appearance on the "Ted Randal Show" over KPIX last week.

In town for the world premiere of his latest movie, the handsome star talked to the youngsters following the telecast, and patiently answered their excited questions. Having teen-age children of his own, he obviously understands and really enjoys young people.

Managing to get a few questions in, too, we learned that someday soon he hopes to bring his family up to this area to live. He told us that they have a ranch in Lake County, and they come up here whenever they have a chance.

A fine actor with many outstanding movies to his credit, MacMurray has always been a box office favorite. Now many of these popular films will be shown right on your television screen as KPIX's new Paramount series are shown. So watch your TV schedules for listings as some of his most entertaining movies premiere over Channel 5 during the coming year.

Most exciting television for the entire family is "Treasure", shown weekly over KRON-TV on Fridays at 6:30 p.m. Hosted by Bill Burrud, the documentary travel - adventure is based on actual facts of lost treasure. Entertaining, too, are the clever commercials.

Premiering last week over KQED, two new programs — "Fine Arts Quartet," (Fridays, 8 p.m.) featuring a discussion and demonstration by the international famous quartet, and "Introduction of Investments," (Mon. 9:30 p.m.) designed to give the small investor information on various securities.

Two outstanding NBC programs are scheduled next week over KRON-TV. On January 25, "The Wonderful Atom," on NBC Kaleidoscope, and on January 26, a colorcast of a new Bell System Science program, "The Alphabet Conspiracy," with Dr. Frank Baxter.

PARTNERSHIP THEME

150 County Education Leaders Stress Value Of "Communication"

By Bunny Gillespie

Communication, the prime factor in good relations whether it be in the family, school, community, nation or world-came under much careful scrutiny last week as approximately 150 selected representatives of San Mateo County educational groups and San Mateo County Parent - Teacher Associations met for a day-long school relations conference at the Elks Club in San Mateo.

Convening at 9 a.m., the session was called to give participants an opportunity for evaluation in bringing closer relationship between the home and the school and also to develop united efforts in the interest of the children of this county by educators and the general public.

Present at the conference, theme of which was "Improving Our Partnership," and representing Jefferson Elementary School District were Joseph Lewkowitz, chairman of the board of trustees; H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent; Dr. Bernhard Gerdes, principal, Colma School; Mrs. Olga Pless, third grade teacher, Woodrow Wilson School, and Mrs. Kenneth Gillespie, president, James L. Snell PTA.

Speaking for the Jefferson Union High School District were Ed Morgan, district superintendent; Principal Glen South, Teacher Ben Snyder and PTA President Mrs. Alfred Boreni, all of Westmoor High; and principal John Mongan, Teacher Mrs. Marjorie Reandeau and PTA President Mrs. Beatrice Greenemeier of Jefferson High School.

General chairman of the conference planning committee was Mrs. Roy Cloud, junior past president of the 17th District CCPT. In discussing the session theme, Mrs. Cloud expressed the wish that good across-the-table discussion take place in the spirit of true partners.

Working with Mrs. Cloud and appearing as speakers were Frederick E. Lucas, vice-president of San Mateo County Superintendents Association; Warren H. Natwick, assistant superintendent of SM County schools; Dr. Carlos M. Montandon, president of the SM County Elementary Principals Association, and Ben Snyder. Also on the committee was Mrs. Irene Campbell, president of the SM County Teachers Association. Helping with hostess duties was Daly City's Mrs. Foriest Cunningham.

Among the questions discussed were: "What are some of the barriers to a good relationship between parent and professional groups?", "What do you feel should be the scope of activities of parent members of PTAs in relation to the school and the district?" "What do you think should be the role of "T" (referring to other professional groups) in PTA?", "How can we utilize interests of parents in the school in line with PTA objectives and ethics?", "How can the role of "T" be carried out more effectively?" and "How can the overall PTA program be improved?"

Observations, conclusions and recommendations were presented at the close of the meet by Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, superintendent and president of College of San Mateo.

Mayfair Names New Manager For Bay Area

The appointment of David Mays as manager of its Bay Area division was announced by Mayfair Markets this week.

Mays has for the past year been manager of the firm's Bakersfield division, having been appointed to that position when Mayfair purchased his three markets there at the beginning of 1958.

May's early experience in the retail grocery business dates back to 1931 when as a Los Angeles high school boy, he started to work for a small chain there. He spent a decade with them. In 1946 he went into business for himself in Bakersfield.

He will manage, from the Mayfair divisional offices in Oakland, the nine markets that at present comprise the division. Two additional stores, one in Hayward and one in Palo Alto, are scheduled to open this spring. Mayfair operates a total of 70 supermarkets, six of them in Arizona under the name of El Rancho Markets, and the rest in California.

Mays replaces W.A. Christensen, division manager for the past year, who has resigned in order to accept the presidency of a Seattle food chain.

Neil Dunford At NY Base

Airman Third Class Neil Dunford, 1958 graduate of Jefferson High, recently completed 10-days leave in Bayshore City and has left for his new duty assignment at Griffis Air Force Base in New York.

Dunford, a football standout for Jeff, had basic training at Lackland AFB in San Antonio, Texas. His family lives at 380 Oriente street, Bayshore City.

Neil, 18, will be attached to the supply squadron of the Griffis radar warning unit.

This is just something to think about now that your contribution to this insecure "security" has gone up by another one-fourth of one per cent on the first $4,800 of your salary.

'Roaring 20's' Dance Figures To Be Sellout

Chairman Bob Hunter announced today that tickets were "selling at a lively clip" for the "Roaring Twenties" dance to be staged February 7 at Roberts-at-the-Beach by the Westlake Catholic Men.

This will be the last prelenten social affair of the Westlake group and early returns indicate a sellout well in advance.

Since the committee's announcement that trophies are to be awarded not only for the most authentic costume but also to winners of the Charleston dance contest, ticket chairman Al Della Santa reports that couples calling for reservations are also requesting that they be listed as dance contestants.

Assisting Hunter and Della Santa are committee members Dick Dwyer, Dino Tonelli, Charlie Santucci, Buzz Davenport and Al Swadley.

Admission to the dance is $3 per couple which includes a chance on several door prizes. Tickets may be obtained by calling either PL 5-1790 or PL 5-2032.

Billy Graham Movie Monday In Westlake

Evangelist Billy Graham's latest motion picture, "The Heart is a Rebel," will be presented here next Monday night. The new feature-length color production starts Ethel Waters, Georgia Lee and John Milford, and is scheduled to be shown at the Westlake auditorium, 331 Park Plaza drive, Monday, at 7:30 p.m.

The story is based on a conflict in the life of a modern young couple when the husband, an advertising executive, can't find a place in his scheme-of-things for his wife's sudden acceptance of the Christian faith. In a completely down-to-earth setting, the situation provides a dimension of reality seldom afforded a religious motion picture.

"The Heart is A Rebel" provides a "front row" perspective of the Graham team in the Crusade setting of Madison Square Garden. The dyamic preaching of the evangelist is augmented by the singing of George Beverly Shea and the music of a 1500 voice Crusade Choir under the direction of Cliff Barrows.

The doors to the Westlake Auditorium will be open at 7. All seats are on a "first-come" basis, with no admission charge.

At year end there were 2119 Safeway Stores in operation as compared with 2033 at the close of 1957.

'The Collegiates,' Westlake Teenage Girls Organization

For their next project the girls will see the stage play, "A View From the Bridge," at the Curran.

A membership limit of 25 girls is planned. All high school girls interested in joining should contact Delores Del Campo, club president, PL 5-1764, or Sherrie Ellice, vice president, at PL 6-0771.

The club has been active for nine years. Club counselor is Mrs. Doris Chive. Meetings are held every other week at the Westlake Improvement Center, 95 South Mayfair.

KIP Workshop News

Final rehearsals are underway for the big 1½-hour show at Log Cabin Ranch this Sunday. The Kip show early in December was such a success that the boys at La Honda have requested a repeat.

On January 29, Kipsters will perform at Ward S-1 at Letterman Army Hospital. A variety of numbers have been prepared for this show.

The January 19 show for Letterman Hospital was postponed until February 9. The Friday night performance promises to be full of lively entertainment for the patients, with music and dance numbers featured.

Auditions and rehearsals are being held now for the February 13 variety show at the Fort Funston Missile Battalion base. A Valentine's theme has been selected.

Kip parents and interested adults please note: on Saturday, January 24, at 1 p.m., a special meeting will be held to inform those concerned with some of the aims and practices of Kip. The formation of a special adult group as a separate unit of Kip will also be discussed.

Those not too familiar with Kip will be interested to know that KIP stands for Kids in Performance. It is a Workshop designed to meet the existing needs of young people of the community who wish to take advantage of what Kip offers. Performance in Kip goes beyond stage productions. It requires kids (and adults) to perform home and school and community duties and services. Kip is not only for talented or professional children, but for all children.

Kip welcomes new members Doreen McDonald of Daly City, tap dancer, and Carol Buttles, also of Daly City, dance specialty.

Kipstars Skipper Berta, the Larson Brothers, and Richard Fenn were a big hit at the banquet given by the Lionesses Auxiliary of the Daly City and Colma Lions Club on January 8 at Joe's of Westlake. The KIP group was under the direction of Alleine Orchard, talent director. This group is a part of the new smash combo, "The Sparklers," which is accumulating rave notices after every appearance. Gail Vaurs on drums and Bob Maxwell who sings and plays the bongo drums complete the group.

* * * *

Kipstars, under the direction of Alleine Orchard, will appear by popular demand in the Pacifica area at Sanchez School early in March.

* * * *

On January 19 at Letterman Recreation hall, Kipstars will appear in a one-hour show produced by Kay Irvine. Mrs. Bea Blum of South San Francisco has created a group of line dancers who will also appear in the same show.

* * * * *

January 25 is the date set for the next show at the Log Cabin Ranch for Boys at La Honda. At the request of the boys, a two-hour show has been planned and, barring inclement weather, the Kipstars will return for a repeat of their first highly successful show.

* * * *

Excerpts from two of the many letters praising KIP activities during the holiday season follow. From Letterman Army Hospital, Colonel A. L. Tynes writes, "I could not let the holiday season pass completely without availing myself of the opportunity to express the deep appreciation of myself and the staff for the entertainment furnished the patients of Letterman Army Hospital during the Christmas season . . . your variety show contributed mightily to relieving the monotony that is unfortunately incident to all hospitalization . . . again please accept our profound gratitude."

* * * *

From Mrs. B. V. Carnahan of the American National Red Cross: "Dear Mrs. Irvine — We have heard some wonderful reports on your December 29 show for the Letterman ward patients, particularly the combo (The Sparklers). Our volunteers at the hospital always remark on the exceptional cooperation. . . . It is a pleasure to pass on the compliments, thanks so much. . . . We do appreciate all of the shows . . . and we look forward to continued association in our entertainment program."

Space does not permit us to include any more of the letters received. KIP is pleased that its efforts have been so well received in the community.

Mrs. Joy Luster of Daly City has been appointed Publicity Director of the KIP Workshop.

Mrs. McLeod Garden Club's New President

At the recent installation of new officers of the Daly City Garden Club, Mrs. Joseph P. Schultz turned over the presidential gavel to the new president for 1959, Mrs. Ward McLeod.

The installation ceremonies were conducted by the club's founder, Mrs. A. Bunkley, who installed the following new slate of officers to carry on the active agenda of the garden club: Mrs. Thomas Parish, first vice president; Mrs. Schultz, second vice president; Alfred Marquez, treasurer; Mrs. Claire Yohn, recording secretary; Mrs. H. L. Colin, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ella Streeter, parliamentarian.

Mrs. McLeod appointed the following chairmen of the standing committees which complete the executive board of the Garden Club together with the officers: Mrs. Richard Hunter, plant table; A. J. Lemos, conservation chairman; Claire Yohn, year book bulletin chairman, and Mrs. Alfred Marquez, junior Gardener chairman.

Mrs. Yohn, Flower Show chairman for the club's fifth annual flower show last September, has been notified by the state chairman of awards for the California council of Garden Clubs that the local garden clubbers' show was judged by the panel of accredited national judges, and passed the requirements to compete for the National Council Awards which are given annually to state garden clubs.

Three years ago the Daly City Garden Club received the purple ribbon for the state of California, and is once again competing for this coveted award.

Russian Hill was the haven of the city's artists and writers in the early days, among them Ambrose (Bitter) Bierce, Joaquin Miller, Ina Coolbrith, George Sterling, Peter B. Kyne, Stewart Edward White and Kathleen and Charles Norris, according to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

THE community lost a pioneer and resident with the passing of Margaret Pauline Brown of Colma. The veteran school teacher spent the bulk of her 84 years in the fields of education and community service. She completed a history of Jefferson School District and Colma just three weeks before her death.

Dog Obedience Training Class Deadline Nears

This Friday evening is the deadline for teenagers and adults to enroll in the special dog obedience training classes sponsored by the Westlake Kennel Club.

The program began last Friday night at Westlake Park clubhouse and the response was good, according to Mrs. Virginia Jamison, one of the founders of the Westlake club.

Three one-hour classes are held each Friday night at the clubhouse, starting at 7:30 o'clock, under the leadership of veteran Bay Area dog trainer, Betty Carpenter, a Westlake resident. The classes last for eight weeks and will be followed by a special confirmation class for dogs.

Fee for the eight weeks course is $6 for teenagers and $12 for adults. Call Mrs. Jamison at PL 5-1190 for more details.

Special Pumps For Basements Curb Flooding

With the present rains scheduled to become heavier, officials of the Plumbing Industry of San Mateo County urge all residents who have basements to prepare for flooding by installation of a sump pump.

This type of pump is made especially for keeping basements dry and is very efficient.

The pump is located in a well to which surplus water in the basement drains. The pump is equipped with a float valve which starts the motor automatically when the water in the sump reaches the danger point. The pump continues to operate until all the water has been drained from the sump.

All licensed plumbing contractors in San Mateo County are equipped to install sump pumps.

Hundreds of dollars of water damage can be saved through this protective device, the plumbing officials pointed out.

YWCA PRESENTATION

'Introduction To Opera' Class Opens Soon For Local Adults

"Introduction to the Opera" is special feature of the new series of YWCA classes. This class on opera appreciation will be given on Wednesday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning February 4. The site will be announced soon.

"Introduction to the Opera" is designed to increase the individual's enjoyment and understanding of opera. Class lectures will be highlighted by musical excerpts from operas that will be performed in the near future by the Cosmopolitan Opera Company in San Francisco.

Groups of class members will have the opportunity to attend three operas, LaBoheme, Lucia de Lammermoor and The Masked Ball. The fee for eight ectures and the three opera performances will be $14. For those wishing to attend the lectures only the fee will be $8.

Instructor for this class will be Ernest Schaecne. Founder of the Golden Gate Opera Workshop in San Francisco, Schaeche introduced his Opera Appreciation course for theYWCA in an effort to tear down the "iron curtain" of misunderstanding that has been drawn around Grand Opera. "Unfortunately some Americans are trightened by the technical jargon and the foreign terminology that surrounds opera like a wall", says Schaeche.

According to him, the situation for the American opera goer is somewhat different from his counterpart in Europe, where opera is performed in the native tongue and where no intelligent person would attend without first informing himself about the work he is to hear by at least reading the libretto.

"The tempo of American life gives the ordinary person here less time for leisurely reading and study. Although opera librettos are also available here in this country, reading them often is a painful experience because of bad translations that distort the original and instead of enlightening, bewilder and frustrate the reader," states Schaeche. "Opera is not an esoteric phenomenon but a most accessible and delightful form of theater."

Both men and women are invited to attend this class. Advance registration is necessary, and may be made by phoning the YWCA local office, PL 6-7370. Enrollment may be made for the eight lectures only or for the lectures plus the three opera performances. All lectures will be illustrated at the piano and with recordings.

POTLUCK INSTALLATION

Eve Liberato, Arlene McKinney New Girl Scout Chairmen Here

The potluck dinner for registered adult Girl Scouts of the Parkview - Sterling Park and Peoria neighborhoods was a tremendous success last week.

More than 80 members attended the affair in the Coral Room of War Memorial Community Center.

Its chief purpose was the installation of new neighborhood chairmen, and the awarding of year-pins.

The program started with the presentation of colors. Those who took part were the Mesdames: Blanche Button, Lillian Coughlin, Martha Dignam, Ruby Hanley, Zella Heneise, Anita Spinetti, and Marlene Taylor.

The singing of songs and the recitation of grace preceded the potluck dinner.

Mrs. Eve Liberato, a former Girl Scout, and one who has served in different capacities for 4½ years, took over the Parkview - Sterling Park chair vacated by retiring chairman, Mrs. Hilda Heagney. Mrs. Arlene McKinney of the Peoria section took over Mrs. Frances Windhurst's expired term. Mrs. Roger Gillmore will assist Mrs. McKinney as neighborhood chairman.

Mrs. Marge Calvin, in charge of the awards, made the presentations in a very charming and artistic manner. Her ingenious cleverness was indicated by her creation of corsages made of colored ribbons, fresh ivy leaves, and hourglass centers. The award pins were attached to the centers of the bouquets. The whole thing gave meaning to deep rooted friendships and hours of pleasurable work in Scouting.

A 15-year pin was awarded to Mrs. Heagney. A coffee pot and server were presented to her as a gift of appreciation for her untiring work with Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Clara Poket and Mrs. Sybvia Steinbach we each presented with 10-year pins.

Mrs. Ann Eason, a member of the city recreation commission, was awarded a certificate of appreciation for her long—time support of the Girl Scouts.

Five - year pins were awarded to the Mesdames: Blanche Button, Marian Plansky, Shirley Stone, and Marlene Taylor.

Two other special guests, Mrs Margaret Jones, president of the North San Mateo Girl Scout Council, and Mrs. Verona Williams, district chairman, attended the feast. They both agreed that this was one of the nicest affairs of its kind.

Table decorations were unique. They brought the freshness and the beauty of the out-of-doors, inside. Runners of pine and cedar branches were placed down the centers of the tables, and the whole atmosphere was that of a camp scene.

Films and slides of the Folk Dance Festival, Posey Parade, and Mitten Tree, were shown.

Mrs. Plansky and her committee were congratulated.

Four Junior High Girl Scouts who helped in the serving and cleaning - up were Ellenana Biagini, Carol Liberato, Arlene Plansky, and Gail Young.

The committee wishes to thank Dee Van Nest, city recreation director, for giving them the use of rooms in the center and for aid in the projection and handling of the movies.

"Thank - yous" are also in order to two well - known business houses, Hill's Brothers coffee, for its donation of coffee, and to Marin - Dell milk company, for the butter and cream.

Five Teachers Aid Counseling At Jeff High

Student counseling at Jefferson High has improved greatly under a new system authorized by the school board and put into effect by Principal John Mongan.

Mongan has appointed five teachers — all volunteers — to serve as counselors one period a day. In taking this assignment, the instructors had to give up their conference or "free" period.

Supt. Ed Morgan said this move at Jefferson would help to create a well-rounded counseling program at Jefferson. Westmoor High's efficient counseling program has been in effect since the new school opened.

Mongan hopes that by next semester Jefferson will be able to obtain the services of a new teacher in order that each member of the counseling staff may be freed one teaching period, thereby giving to each counselor a two-period "block" for counseling and guidance work.

The teacher — counselors at Jefferson are Marjorie Erickson, Julianne W. Jansen, Thomas A. Redmond, Llewellyn Reese and Robert S. Watt.

Chevy Dealer Cites All-Out Sales Drive

Chevrolet outsold all other makes by well over 200,000 units last year, and Chevy dealers are launching an all-out campaign to win the automotive sales race by an even bigger margin in 1959, Carroll Mincher of Gateway Chevrolet declared today.

He said the 200,000 figure was a "conservative" estimate, based on latest figures published by Automotive News, the authoritative voice of the auto industry.

Mincher attributed Chevy's 1958 victory to "Chevrolet's outstanding styling and performance" and to the fact that "Chevrolet dealers—because of their greater volume—were able to offer the public more attractive buys."

Mincher said he is joining his fellow Chevrolet dealers in full-scale sales campaign "to get the ball rolling this month."

This January program is being launched by the Oakland Zone Chevrolet Dealers Association, which includes Chevrolet dealers in 47 Northern California and 12 Western Nevada counties. It will feature advertising in virtually all daily and weekly newspapers and radio stations in the area, he said.

Jefferson-Westmoor Battle Friday Looms 'Turning Point' Tilt

Losers twice in their first three Peninsula League games, Jefferson's varsity cagers have ironed out the kinks and still have hopes of finishing in the first division of the well-balanced race.

Coach Mike Orlich's squad this Wednesday met Capuchino (2-1) in San Bruno and will host spunky Westmoor (1-2) this Friday night in the Jeff gym. Friday's crosstown argument opens with the lightweights going at 7:30 p.m.

The Indians on Wednesday last week stopped Mills, 46-38, with Roy Reitz bagging 15 points, and Friday night lost to unbeaten San Mateo, 59-45, on the Bearcat court.

Orlich's biggest concern is lack of scoring punch at center and also backboard control. Senior Pete Garcia and his pivot replacement, Alan Lee, haven't been hitting the hoop.

Reitz and Howren, two of the best "eyes" in the league, have carried the load. Reitz unloaded 20 points against San Mateo and Howren accounted for 10. Unless they get some scoring help, however, Jeff won't make the first four.

Rick Warren's Jeff 30's also broke into the win column against Mills and looked improved Friday though losing to San Mateo's lightweights, 43-35. Gary Molossi and Mike Wills both hit for 15 points in the latter contest.

Orlich thinks the going will be easier for Jeff after this week since his boys have played the toughest clubs early in the campaign and know what to expect when the second round of play begins. As far as he's concerned, Burlingame, San Mateo, Cap and Hillsdale all have title potential. Jeff lacks a balanced attack this campaign, but the ball could take some lucky bounces.

This Friday's Jeff-Westmoor clash could be a turning point for Orlich's crew. Westmoor, gunned by senior guard Ross Holmgren, grew more muscles and determination in beating South City last week with a no less than sensational last quarter rally.

Last year, Jefferson ran away from Westmoor in one meeting, but the second clash was close.

Next week, the Indians travel to Hillsdale on Wednesday and to South City on Friday evening.

BEERMAN, HOLMGREN SIZZLE TO GIVE RAMS FIRST LEAGUE WIN

Red-hot, last-ditch efforts by soph Clark Beerman and senior guard Ross Holmgren gave Westmoor High's varsity a heart-pumping 55-54 win over South San Francisco here Friday night.

The win was Westmoor's first against two losses in Peninsula League play. This Wednesday, the Rams host Hillsdale (2-1) and Friday night the locals move into Jeff gym to battle Mike Orlich's Indians.

Beerman and Holmgren played clutch ball Friday in the uphill fight to overcome South City. Ross, an all-league candidate for sure, connected for the final three Westmoor field goals, ramming home the winning bucket on a layup with just 10 seconds to go.

Beerman, a 6-3 newcomer, shared laurels by bagging 15 points. He entered the game for ailing Gary Twitty midway in the third period. Clark attempted eight shots and connected six times — the hottest effort to date on the Peninsula. The lanky soph also tallied three free throws.

Holmgren had 14 points and Bill Dougherty got 12 for Coach Tony Giammona's Rams. Al Lanza led the Warriors with 14.

The tilt was close all the way. Westmoor led at the end of the first quarter, 17-15, but fell behind at halftime by 29-25. South City entered the final quarter with a 43-40 edge.

Beerman has to sit out this week's tilts due to scholastic difficulties. Giammona hopes to have Twitty (hampered by a strained back) ready at forward along with Dick Reese. Bill Mannion will be at center. Holmgren and Dougherty are the guards. Jerry Sullivan tops the Rams' reserves.

Westmoor's lightweights, bossed by Byron Van Alystne, dropped another closie Friday night when Dan Emmett's two free throws in the last five seconds gave South City a 40-39 win.

Barry Krohn was high for the Rams with 11 points, while Emmett canned 19 for the invaders.

Wednesday last week, unbeaten Burlingame spanked the Ram varsity, 53-37, but the Westmoor 30's captured their game, 36-25. Twitty missed this contest and Dougherty fouled out after the first eight minutes. Mannion was high for Westmoor with 11. Bob Goodwin and Andy Saranchock had 10 points each to pace the lightweight win.

Mercy, PAL Fives Tangle In Title Tilt

The Police Athletic League took over first place in the D.C. Parks and Recreation Department Eighth Grade League when they whipped Colma Playground, 34-21. High scorer was Dan Hermosillo with 11 points.

Upset honors go to Ben Franklin as they squeezed past previously beaten Our Lady of Mercy, 28-23. Leading scorers for BF were Schmartz and Daubin, each with 7 points, while OLM's Locke led game scoring with 9 points. In other eighth grade games, Crocker beat Lincoln and OLPH beat Holy Angels, 30-22. The eighth grade championship could be decided this week when OLM and PAL meet at 2:30 p.m.

The seventh grade championships will also be decided when PAL meets OLM at 12:30 o'clock. Both teams held their first place ties last week. PAL squeezed past Ben Franklin, 26-24. Bill Jones from PAL led the scoring with 12 points. OLM defeated Lincoln to make this week's game the decider. Holy Angels defeated Colma, 17-9.

OLM held onto first place in the sixth grade league by beating Marchbanks. Crocker defeated OLPH, 28-27. Lerios of Crocker led with 15 points. Ben Franklin beat Lincoln in the only other scheduled game.

The fifth grade league championship will also be at stake this week when OLM and Marchbanks vie at 10 a.m.

Marchbanks moved to a first place tie by dumping War Memorial, 40-7. Chalmers and Stoller led the Marchbanks team with 13 and 11 points. Ben Franklin built up a third quarter lead and waltzed to an 18 to 13 victory over OLPH.

City Badminton Classes Popular

The city-sponsored badminton program is off to a rousing start. More than 90 persons participated in the program last week.

The Department of Parks and Recreation has expanded the program to include a teenage class which will meet each Friday from 7 to 10 p.m., starting this week, at War Memorial building on Mission street.

Thursday nights from 7 to 10 p.m. will be reserved for adult badminton, with the exception of January 22, when the program will be moved to Wednesday, January 21, because of the OLPH boxing show.

Registration for both programs is still open. Midge Pierce and several capable instructors will be on hand each week to teach those who have never played the game before and to help others to brush up on techniques. For the intermediate and advanced players, matches will be arranged with players of similar ability.

Players are requested to wear tennis shoes and comfortable clothes. The Department of Parks and Recreation will supply the necessary shuttlecocks and has a limited number of badminton rackets available.

Individuals may register by phoning the Parks and Recreation office, PL 5-0850, Ext. 18.

NEW CHAIRMAN

Jefferson High's Mike Orlich Heads County Parks-Rec Board

The north end of the county should have more of a voice in parks and recreation planning this year.

This is because the new chairman of the San Mateo County Parks and Recreation Commission is Mike Orlich, 42, who lives at 120 Garden Lane in Garden Village. Orlich is serving his third year on the board and was appointed chairman this month.

Mike, director of boys' physical education at Daly City's Jefferson High, has been on the school faculty since 1947. His Basketball teams consistently have ranked with the best on the peninsula the past 11 years.

Orlich also has coordinated sports and recreation programs annually for Daly City's neighboring unincorporated areas.

Mike attended University of Minnesota and Union University in Jackson, Tennessee. He received his master's degree at Stanford University.

Before coming to Jeff, Orlich taught physical education four years in San Francisco schools, two years in Orland, California, and three years at Ripley High in Tennessee.

He and his wife have three sons, Jim, Tom and Jeffrey.

Supervisor Tom Callan of Colma appointed Orlich to the county commission in 1957.

PLAYERS NEEDED

Police Athletic League To Field 6 Baseball Teams For 2 Leagues

Undaunted despite the shortage of funds, Daly City's Police Athletic League will field at least six baseball teams this spring for city and inter-city competition.

PAL President John Coleman last week appointed Officer Les Bastedo director of PAL baseball this year. At the same time, 25 managers showed up to make plans for the teams. At least three adult supervisors will work with each squad.

'Boys who would like to play for PAL in recreation department leagues or the PAL league are asked to contact the police department as soon as possible. Number is PL 5-0850, and the address is city hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

As last year, uniforms are available for six fully-equipped PAL nines.

This year more incentive will come from the planned Peninsula PAL. Police Athletic League teams from Redwood City and South San Francisco will compete in this loop against Daly City squads.

Money-wise, PAL is in "sorry shape," Coleman admitted. "But our board of directors is working on fund-raising ideas and we should have some announcements soon."

Daly City was California's first community to come up with a Police Athletic League program for boys. Congressman J. Arthur Younger recently lauded Coleman and his staff in a letter, citing his interest in the organization and his support of its objectives.

About the only big donations thus far to PAL came from Supervisor Tom Callan of Colma and the police department staff itself. Callan has given the group $200. The department has donated Christmas card money the past two years to the PAL treasury.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi has worked with Coleman in an attempt to get a site and funds for a PAL clubhouse. To date, however, progress has been slow.

Coleman estimates PAL membership here at about 450 boys.

The high game for the women went to Olive Rubek who bowled a 209 game after games of 134 and 133. Marge Brown of the B & B team was second in the women's group with a 201-543 game and series.
